Most Regrettable

"Washington, Feb. 16 - In the first two editions of The New York Times of Feb. 11, a Washington dispatch on the meeting of President Nixon with the National Industrial Pollution Control Council said that the Justice Department had filed an antipollution suit against the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. This statement, based on information supplied by the Justice Department, was incorrect. Although some plants of Bethlehem Steel are not in compliance with water quality standards, they have been given time to correct the pollution. No suit has been filed against the company. Turks Under Martial Law
for Rogers

By LEWIS GULICK

Associated Press Writer
ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers met today with foreign affairs leaders from Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain before taking off on his peace-seeking mission in the Middle East.

The occasion was the yearly ministerial meeting of CENTO, the Central Treaty Organization that John Foster Dulles put together as a security shield along the southern border of the Soviet Union.

Martial law helped keep the Turkish capital quiet, with the government tightening its grip. Authorities shut down another five left-wing periodicals and arrested several prominent leftists in a continuing crackdown against extremists.

As British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home arrived late Thursday, helmeted troops stood guard along the 18-mile route from the airport to the city.

Rogers flies to Saudi Arabia Saturday to start his week-long pilgrimage aimed at spurring an Arab-Israeli peace settlement. Next week he goes to Jordan, Lebanon, Egypt and Israel.

One of Israel's top policy makers, Cabinet Minister Israel Galili, said today that the Israeli government would welcome Rogers warmly despite its displeasure at his opposition to Israel's territorial demands.

He said he hoped that once Rogers had seen Israel, he would understand better Israel's desire for new borders. But he warned: "Mr. Rogers will meet here a united nations ... whose policy cannot be eroded by compensation or temptation."

Galili also blamed the State Department for the freeze in U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarling's peace talks because the Americans had backed Jarling's bid for an Israeli commitment to withdraw from the Sinai desert.

In Cairo, Mohamed Hassanein Heikal, editor of Al-Ahram, who often reflects official thinking, said Rogers' tour may be the last hope of avoiding a new Arab-Israeli war.

Heikal hinted Egypt has extended its April deadline for peacekeeping another month because of the American secretary's trip. "But May will definitely be the decisive month which will bring all parties involved in the Middle East crisis, including the United States, to the end of the road," he said.

Amtrak to Begin Service
at Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge refused today to delay the start of America's new Amtrak network of railway passenger trains.

The new system is due to go into effect at midnight tonight. U.S. District Judge Howard F. Corcoran said so far as he was aware "there is no indication in the legislative history that Congress intended" the secretary of labor's certification of the Rail Passenger Service Act to be reviewable by the court on its merits.

The railroad unions had sought to block the start of Amtrak on grounds that Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson's certification violated the act in permitting unfair rules for workers affected by the discontinuance of trains not in Amtrak.

Judge Corcoran said in another case before him in the matter that he "feels" that the contracts for discontinuing trains not in Amtrak are valid. Thus he rejected a plea by unions and other citizen groups that the 30-day notice requirement before discontinuance had not been met.

In a third suit the judge also dismissed a plea to block discontinuance of passenger trains of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad from Baltimore and Martinsburg, W. Va. area into Washington. He used the same reasoning as in the case of the 30-day notice decision.

The losers in all three of the cases said they would appeal immediately to the U.S. Circuit Court in hopes for a decision before midnight tonight.

The Missouri Pacific's passenger train originated in Texarkana at 5 a.m., bound for Little Rock and points as far north as St. Louis.

The train was due to depart from Little Rock shortly before 8 a.m. and to arrive in St. Louis at 3 p.m. today.

Driver License Good

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — If I ever learn to drive it won't be so that I can get PLACES. It will be so that I can get THINGS.

Trying to pay for something by check when you don't have a driver's license for identification is slightly more difficult than boarding an airplane with a rifle slung over one shoulder, a knife stuck through your belt and a button reading "I am a skyjacker" prominently displayed on your lapel.

Although I pay my income tax to the last penny, don't litter and absolutely never cross the street on red, without that driver's license I'm a criminal in the eyes of the cashier.

I have a Social Security number, a Blue Cross number, an employee identification number, a library card number, a checking account number, a savings account number and enough other sets of digits that belong exclusively to me to outfit a computer for life. Still, when it comes to cashing checks, I lack the one number sequence that really counts.

I haven't yet ascertained the correlation between being able to maneuver a car through traffic and living an upright life. But somehow possessing a driver's license puts you in a class with Boy Scouts in the trustworthy, honest and thrifty department. Not being able to drive automatically makes you suspect.

New Drive
on Marijuana
Is Planned

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans a new war this summer on marijuana growing wild in farm fields and hedge rows across 10 states, mostly in the Midwest.

The program will use $85,000 allocated by the Justice Department to the Agriculture Department. Grants will be turned over to farmers to help pay costs of eradicating the illegal plants.

Agriculture Department officials acknowledged existence of the plan Thursday only after repeated questions by a reporter. There had been no public announcement.

A spokesman said the campaign has tentatively been named WHEP, which stands for the Wild Hemp Elimination Program.

States on the WHEP list are Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Initially, $46,000 will be allocated to the states for eliminating an estimated 22,000 acres of marijuana in certain counties, still unannounced. The remainder will be spent "on the basis of need" as the season progresses, the spokesman said.

The department said the season for effective control is from May 15 to July 15.

Officials said most of the total budget, some $68,000, will be handled by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the agency which administers crop subsidy programs.

This being the case, I usually endeavor to make my purchases with cash, a transaction that does not require a knowledge of the rules of the road. However, on a recent occasion I found just the clock I'd been looking for in a department store and decided to make it mine via the check-writing routine. Ahead of me in the line, clutching some hi-fi equipment, was a definitely criminal type—frayed pants, dirty shirt, droopy mustache and uncombed hair.

"Look at those shifty eyes," I said to myself. "If they let him get by with a check I'll have no problem." After all, I thought smugly, I was wearing my best suit and looked affluent enough to have the price of the clock in my checking account.

The potential convict in front of me was processed as quickly as you could say, "May I see your driver's license, please?" and then it was my turn.

Although I produced any number of affidavits attesting to the fact that I was I, none was acceptable. I was sent up to the credit office where I was lengthily interrogated and, after having my picture taken I was allowed to quit the premises with the clock leaving behind what they obviously thought was a worthless check.

Next time I'll take my husband along to write the checks. He hates to go shopping but he'd hate even more to teach me to drive.

Cities Say
Housing Rule
Hurts Them

WASHINGTON (AP) — In California, in Massachusetts, Michigan and New York, officials have reacted with disappointment to a Supreme Court ruling that residents of a community have the right to veto low-rent housing projects.

But in Illinois, three small-town mayors expressed delight with the 5-3 decision.

"The ruling," said Wheaton's new mayor, Ralph Barger, "gives the right back to the community to decide about public housing, and it certainly belongs there. This is supposed to be a democracy."

Elsewhere, officials said the decision will stimulate legislatures to adopt the kind of checks that exist in 11 states.

The case decided by the court came from San Jose, Calif., where the city council approved a low-rent housing project but, under the state constitution, had to submit the issue to the voters. By majority vote, the council's recommendation was defeated.

A federal court in San Francisco then found the procedure unconstitutional on the theory it put an illegal burden on the poor. But the Supreme Court upheld the referendum system since, according to Justice Hugo L. Black, it does not discriminate against a racial minority.

Besides, Black said, "Provisions for referendums demonstrate devotion to democracy, not to bias, discrimination or prejudice."

In Sacramento, Harry Zollinger, executive director of the local housing authority, said: "This really came as a shock to us. It puts the burden on the poor—discriminates against the poor."

Walter S. Lipe, the assistant city manager, was more optimistic. Speaking of a plan to build 500 new units in Sacramento, he commented: "If properly presented the voters know all the facts, then I think it could pass in an election."

The record in California would indicate a 50-50 chance. Over 20 years, 1950 through 1969, voters killed 48 percent of the low-rent housing units put on the ballot by local officials.

Grant for Boone
County Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan said Thursday a federal grant for an additional $96,800 has been approved for the Boone County Hospital in Harrison.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has already issued $260,000 in Hill-Burton funds to the project. The project, construction of a 33-bed addition, is to cost $1.2 million.

McClellan also announced approval of a $9,200 grant for the Arkansas Children's Colony in Conway.

Hope Fire Dept. answered a call at 9:15 p.m. Thursday to Hope Novelty Co. where a fire had broken out in the paint room in the rear of the building and had spread to the attic.

Local firemen brought the fire under control within an hour and confined the damage to the paint room and the attic.

It is believed that the electrical wiring on an exhaust fan became faulty and caused the fire. An estimate of the damage has not been determined.

Fire Chief Jim Cobb stated that due to the alertness and efficiency of the firemen, a major and costly fire was prevented.

Neighborhood Fights
May Doom Plans for Philadelphia Fair

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A neighborhood revolution in Philadelphia is jeopardizing plans in the city of brotherly love for an international exposition marking the nation's 200th birthday in 1976.

The city's bicentennial corporation chief gives the world a fair-type promotion less than a 50-50 chance.

Similar community opposition prompted Boston, original contender for the big exposition, to drop all plans at least temporarily for a celebration of national scope. Residents surrounding the proposed 1,100-acre Byberry site in North Philadelphia are fighting with petitions, letters and other pressures on local and state politicians.

Many persons in the densely populated area simply don't want the circus-like atmosphere with its thousands of tourists marching across their lawns and asking to use their bathrooms. Others fear traffic congestion.

Congress
Rebels Buck
Establishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current crop of congressmen from marginal districts is showing an early tendency to buck the House establishment.

On two key House votes this year, the bipartisan collection provided the muscle to cut off government funding of the supersonic transport and failed by just two votes to limit the draft extension to one year. On both occasions they disregarded the Nixon administration and House leaders.

If a pattern has been shaped by the mavericks' voting, it is that they are more attentive to their constituents.

"In a close contest you need every vote you can get," said one who asked to be anonymous. "The administration and the party leaders can't vote for you on election day."

More than 50 congressmen won election last November by margins of no more than 5 per cent of total votes cast.

They are about evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans, and about half are first-termers. Others are legislative veterans who until recent years had little opposition in what were once considered safe districts.

Missing Baby Found in Nursing Home, a Case of Measles

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Little Heather Erwin, subject of a police search through three states for 10 days, was back in the custody of her grandmother Thursday after being discovered at a Norman day care center.

Authorities said the 9-month-old infant had contracted a case of measles.

The child had been hunted through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri ever since her mother, Mrs. Mary Alice Erwin of Carthage, Mo., was found partially nude and semiconscious in a public restroom in northwest Arkansas.

Mrs. Erwin, who is free under $2,000 bond after being charged with possession of marijuana in Berryville, Ark., told police the last thing she remembered was being at the home of the baby's grandmother April 16.

The grandmother, Mrs. Shirley Mahurin of Picher, Okla., said she discovered Mrs. Erwin and the baby missing when she went to awaken them April 19.

Authorities said they have not been able to determine where the baby was between April 19 and Tuesday, when she was taken to the day care center here.

Norman police said their investigation showed that a girl wearing an Army field jacket gestion and rumors the area will be converted to low-cost public housing after the exposition.

"I have been betting all along the chances were 50-50" Philadelphia would host the exposition, John P. Bracken, chairman of the city's Bicentennial Corp., said Thursday. "I would even shave that a little bit now. It looks rather difficult."

Without community acceptance, Bracken stressed, there will be no exposition.

Earlier this week Jack Kelly, a Philadelphia councilman and former Bicentennial Corp. president, said: "I feel that we do not have the time, the community financing, nor the community support to mount an international exposition."

Philadelphia was named by President Nixon last September as primary site for a nationwide, year-long celebration of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Presidential Caution on China Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the recent speculation about further easing of U.S.-China relations has gone beyond reality and could endanger progress already made, according to President Nixon.

He told reporters at a nationally broadcast news conference Thursday night he felt it necessary to put the discussion of what his China policy means in perspective.

There has been movement in recent months toward the goal of a more normal situation between the two nations, Nixon said. "We have moved in the field of travel; we have moved in the field of trade. There will be more progress made ..."

"But now when we move from the field of travel and trade to the field of recognition of the government, to its admission to the United Nations, I am not going to discuss those matters, because it is premature to speculate about that." Speculation by others, he said, "since the visit of the table-tennis team to Peking has not been useful."

Nixon was responding to a question about recommendations of a presidential commission that the Communist government in Peking be seated in the United Nations.

took the infant to the day care center Tuesday afternoon and said she'd be back for the baby in several hours.

When night came, and the girl did not return, police were contacted and center officials were told to keep the infant overnight and advise juvenile authorities if she was not picked up the next morning.

Wednesday morning, police said, a female telephoned the day care center, identified herself as the sister of the baby's mother, and said the mother was hospitalized in Dallas after an auto accident.

The caller also gave the day care center a telephone number which reportedly was that of the grandmother in Picher.

Mrs. Mahurin telephoned Norman police later Wednesday, said she had been contacted by the baby's mother from Joplin, Mo., who told her where the infant was, and was coming to Norman to claim her. Mrs. Mahurin arrived late Wednesday, identified the child through family photographs, and was given custody of the infant.

The child seemed to have a cold, officials said, and Mrs. Mahurin took her to a local physician who diagnosed the case of measles.

The daughter was taken to University Hospital, Little Rock, by Hempstead County Ambulance Service at 8:30 Thursday.

Bruggemann,
Ex FBI, to Head Police

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Thursday that Harold Bruggemann of Hot Springs would become director of the newly created state Department of Public Safety June 1.

Bruggemann, who was with the FBI for 30 years in Iowa, also will serve as head of the State Police.

An aide to the governor said that Lt. Col. William Miller would be appointed interim director of the State Police for the month of May. Miller is currently second in command under Col. Ralph Scott. Scott, the present director, has resigned effective Saturday.

Bruggemann, 50, moved to Hot Springs in October 1970 after working with the FBI from November 1940 until September 1970.

Bumpers told newsmen that Bruggemann initially had reservations about taking the position. The governor said he had received "tremendous recommendations" on Bruggemann, whose name was first mentioned to him by an acquaintance in whom Bumpers said he had great confidence. The governor said about 10 persons had been considered for the job.

Bruggemann's department will include the State Police, the State Militia, the Arkansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, the Law Enforcement Training Academy and the Enforcement Division of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

Bruggemann said he anticipated making no immediate or "sweeping" change in the State Police. He said Scott had done "many good things for the Arkansas State Police and I have no intention of changing them."

Hideouts of Enemy Are Cleaned Out

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. operation to clear away enemy hideouts 25 miles northwest of Saigon triggered an eight-hour battle Thursday.

A force of 500 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops, spearheaded by a column of 30 tanks and armored personnel carriers, overran several heavily fortified bunkers after American bombers and helicopter gunships softened them up.

The U.S. Command said 19 enemy bodies were found. Seventeen Americans and eight South Vietnamese were wounded, and one armored personnel carrier was destroyed.

American forces have been operating 20 to 30 bulldozers in the area since April 1, clearing heavily vegetated land that is packed with booby traps, mines, bunkers and fighting holes.

"We want to clear the land and deny the enemy the use of the bunkers and hideouts to store supplies," said one American officer.

The large security force was thrown into the operation Thursday after a series of enemy attacks. Informants said at least seven Americans have been killed and 90 wounded in the region this month by booby traps, mines, ambushes and shelling attacks. Several bulldozers have been knocked out.

Another 74 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were reported killed in four actions ranging from the southern tip of the Mekong Delta to the central coastal plain. All of the fighting was touched off by enemy attacks, primarily against outposts and militia forces, the backbone of the Saigon government's pacification program to control the countryside.

Field reports said 11 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 50 wounded in the four actions.

In other developments, the flags of three U.S. combat headquarters were furled in colorful ceremonies and the 7th Fleet hospital ship, Sanctuary, prepared to sail for home and decommissioning, marking a further phaseout of the American combat role in South Vietnam.

The U.S. 1st and 2nd Field Forces were deactivated as tactical headquarters and reduced to advisory roles in the central highlands and the Saigon region. The colors of the 2nd brigade, 25th Infantry Division, were returned to Hawaii.

son Square Garden over the 2,654-seat Fillmore East because they make more money—a big fee plus a percentage of the gross of ticket sales. At Madison Square Garden, seats too far away to see, an uncertain sound system and delays between acts of up to an hour are the norm.

Graham said Thursday that rock groups have changed during his time at the two Fillmores. "Now, once in a while they really come in for a sound check. Once in a while they come on time. Negotiating with them has become more and more troublesome."

"It's the inability to cope with success that spoiled rock. It killed Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix. They just didn't know how to handle the adulation heaped upon them by the music they created."

"You don't know what it's like to walk on a stage and have half a million people tell you you're a goddess and everything you do is fine. It's like having a ton of caviar shoved down your throat. They can't handle it."

"More than any artists in the history of mankind, today's rock performers misuse their influence and importance. A kid sees a guitarist making sensuous movements with his guitar and he goes home and thinks he'll get a guitar and take up belly dancing and not take lessons on the guitar."

Asked whether performers also influence their listeners to take drugs, Graham said, "In the year 1971 that is a very stupid question. Yes."

Graham said Woodstock and other festivals of two years ago accelerated the trend toward asking more money for doing less.

At Woodstock, so many people were present that many were too far away to hear or see the performers.

Graham said his impulse to close the Fillmores was triggered by his recent attempt to book rock acts to perform in the Metropolitan Opera during July. "I thought it was important to do a month of contemporary music by artistically worthy acts there. Groups had said to me in the past, 'We want to do something more artistic, something different.' I thought the Met was unique because of the trend setter it could be. I went down the list of quality acts, the best I could find."

New Premier Tries Hand in Cambodia

PHNOM PENH (AP) — Sisowath Sirik Matak declined today an invitation to form a new Cambodian government, saying new men are needed.

The chief of state, Cheng Heng, then asked one of his own advisers, Chuop Hell, to try.

The government crisis is in its 11th day. Marshal Lon Nol resigned on April 20 because of poor health but agreed at Cheng Heng's request to remain on and form a new Cabinet. He gave up his efforts on Thursday and Sirik Matak, the deputy premier, was asked.

But he declined today, telling Cheng Heng that new men are needed to solve Cambodia's problems and that he could not qualify.

Chuop Hell is a political unknown outside Cambodia. He is a former civil servant of the Forestry Department.

There had been an expectation that Sirik Matak would run into opposition from the army and the National Assembly if he tried to form a new government.

Lon Nol had resigned saying he was too ill to carry on the burdens of government. Cheng Heng persuaded him to remain on, but with a new Cabinet. Because the ailing premier is allowed to work only an hour a day, four elder statesmen recommended that he name three deputy premiers including Sirik Matak.

Government informants indicated that Lon Nol's brother, Vol. Lon Non, objected to Sirik Matak, and the latter refused to serve in the government so long as Lon Non remained influential on the sidelines. It was then, the informants said, that Lon Nol decided again to bow out.

Lon Non, in addition to heading the Cambodian equivalent of the Central Intelligence Agency, commands the army's 15th Brigade and heads a red-tape-slashing coordinating committee that has made him numerous enemies.

Won't Bow to Demands of Mob

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — While hinting that release of American prisoners might hasten complete U.S. pullout from Vietnam, President Nixon says he and others in government will not be intimidated by demonstrators' cries of "withdraw now."

Holding his first television-radio news conference in eight weeks, Nixon argued anew Thursday night that his gradual withdrawal policy will prove wisest in the long run.

But he did not dismiss the multiple antiwar protests that have become a daily fact of life here. He said:

"It doesn't mean that we are not going to listen to those who come peacefully, but those who come and break the law will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

Discussing tentative and mutual moves toward improved relations between the United States and mainland China, Nixon struck a cautionary note:

"I think that some of the speculation that has occurred in recent weeks since the visit of the table-tennis team to Peking has not been useful. Progress is not helped in this very sensitive area by speculation that goes beyond what the progress might achieve."

Nixon said he has yet to decide whether to embrace a two-China policy—one that would envision diplomatic recognition of Communist China and Taiwan and, presumably, seats for both in the United Nations.

In a more optimistic vein, he remarked, "I hope, and as a matter of fact, I expect to visit mainland China sometime in some capacity." He said more normal relations with Peking are much to be desired and added another thought:

"The interest of world peace requires good relations between the Soviet Union and Communist China."

Nixon, using a rostrum for the first time at a broadcast news conference, was questioned closely about earlier statements that the United States will keep some troops in South Vietnam until American prisoners are released and the Saigon government has a reasonable chance to survive as a political entity.

Pointing out that former President Lyndon B. Johnson had hoped for serious negotiations in Paris after halting the bombing of North Vietnam, Nixon said:

"Consequently, as far as ... a total withdrawal is concerned, that will have to be delayed until we get not just the promise to discuss the release of our prisoners, but a commitment to release our prisoners because a discussion promise means nothing where the North Vietnamese are concerned."

The chief executive said he has instructed U.S. negotiators at Paris to give the POW question "the highest priority" and to discuss it separately, with other issues or as part of an over-all settlement.

Press Bans Inevitable at Times —Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Thursday that violations of the Freedom of Information Act probably would occur, "despite the best efforts" of his office.

The governor said he hoped that if they did occur, they would happen when there was nothing major being discussed.

Bumpers made the comments in response to questions about a "get together" of the state Racing Commission Tuesday night at the Little Rock Club.

Bumpers said he was sure J. W. Benfield of England, the new chairman of the commission, had no intention of violating the act by inviting commissioners to dinner. The governor said, however, that it was "regrettable" the gathering took place.

Bumpers said that Benfield had wanted to meet with other commissioners in order to get acquainted with them and "I'm sure he gave no thought" to possible violation of the FOI act.

Capitol Bomb Witness to Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Leslie Bacon, the 19-year-old blond peace worker arrested in connection with the bombing of the U.S. Capitol, has been brought here for testimony before a federal grand jury.

The grand jury is investigating the March 1 bombing and has subpoenaed her to testify. Robert L. Stevenson, a Justice Department spokesman, declined to say when Miss Bacon would appear before the grand jury.

Miss Bacon, a member of the Mayday Collective sponsoring antiwar demonstrations in Washington, D.C., next week, was arrested in Washington Wednesday and is being held under $100,000 bond.

The government claims she has "personal knowledge of the circumstances and persons responsible for" the bombing, which caused $200,000 damage to parts of the Senate wing of the Capitol. No one was injured.

The government has named her as a material witness, but not a defendant, in the bombing. An FBI agent, testifying at a bond hearing for her Wednesday in Washington, said, however, that she is suspected of having participated in the bombing.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ABORTION IS NOT THE ONLY WAY

Dear Helen:

I have noticed that you receive letters from distraught girls and women who are pregnant and not married. At times, these girls feel there has to be a drastic, quick solution, and this decision is reached under pressure. Sometimes they feel that they must marry the man or boy when they would not have done so if not pregnant. Some think that abortion is the only answer.

This is unfortunate, because there are in this country some 200 maternity homes offering specialized professional services to the girl or woman who is pregnant. She may be single, divorced, separated or married. These services include medical care, social work counseling, accredited education, group therapy, adoptive placement if desired, recreational programs and, most important, a climate of acceptance. The girl lives with other girls in an atmosphere which is non-judgmental and supportive.

Maternity homes, nationally, have a lower incidence of health problems, and a lower infant mortality rate than is found elsewhere, even among married women.

For the girl who feels that abortion is the only answer, there are a great number of people waiting to adopt babies. Some adoption agencies can no longer take applications from prospective adoptive parents, since there are so few babies. These couples could provide healthy, happy homes for children who might not otherwise know life.—MATERNITY HOME DIRECTOR

Dear Readers: I might also add to this excellent letter that many maternity homes have fees based on the girls' ability to pay.—H.

Dear Helen: My husband and I have been married eight years and have two children. We haven't been out alone together since they have been born, and hardly ever out at all, because (1) he doesn't believe in baby-sitters, and (2) he says it's too much hassle taking the kids anywhere.

I love my children. I love my husband, but not as much as I used to, for all this "togetherness" can pull you apart at the seams. He says if you start going out it becomes a habit.

Am I wrong to be terribly tired of these —FOUR WALLS

Dear F. W.:

Not You've every right to feel stir-crazy.

Staying home constantly can become a habit, too—and a bad one. If you can't nudge your husband off his stump, I'd suggest you let HIM baby-sit while you go out. This may change his attitude.—H.

Dear Helen: With Memorial Day coming up, my husband and I had our annual discussion. His first wife has been dead for many years. He still insists on sending money to the cemetery for grave decorations, even though she has several relatives nearby who always take out flowers.

I say this isn't necessary. Who's right?—B. L.

Dear B. L.: You'll be the winner if you lose this argument gracefully. H.

20 to Go to Post in Derby Saturday

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Eastern Fleet, Jim French and Unconscious, all winners of $100,000 stakes, and Fourulla, a winner of nothing, represent the extremes of a grab-bag group of 20 three-year-olds who will contest Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

The 20 hopefuls, the third largest field in the Derby history and the biggest since 1951 when 20 ran, were entered Thursday for the classic at Churchill Downs.

Sole Mio, owned by Mrs. Taylor Hardin and trained by Woody Stephens, was entered for the race, but withdrawn later in the day after the horse kicked himself and suffered a filled hock—a swollen ankle.

Starting from the inside post under Jorge Velasquez will be on Bold and Able, the Calumet Farm entrant of Eastern Fleet, the Florida Derby winner who will leave the No. 17 gate under Eddie Maple.

Going from the outside slot under 46-year-old Eric Guerin will be Wendell P. Rosso's Impetuously, the Blue Grass Stakes winner. He will be coupled in the betting as part of a George Poole-trained entry with Pastoral Stable's Twist the Axe who will be ridden by Garth Patterson from post 11.

Unconscious, Arthur A. Seeleyson Jr.'s California Derby winner, will be ridden by Laffit Pincay Jr. from the eighth slot; Frank Caldwell's Jim French, the Santa Anita Derby king, will go from No. 10 under Angel Cordero Jr., and A. H. Sullivan's Fourulla, winless in his only four career starts, will leave from No. 19 under Donald MacBeth.

A third entry was the George J. Getz-trained combination of Philip Teinowitz' Royal Leverage and Teinowitz' and Schmidt's On the Money. Martin Fromin will send Royal Leverage from the No. 5 post while Mickey Solomon will ride On the Money from the 9th slot.

Others entered, their jockeys and post positions, were:

Don Ball's Goling Straight, Oswaldo Torres, No. 2; Charles M. Day's Saigon Warrior, Robert Parrott, No. 3; Walnut Hill Farm's Jr's Arrowhead, Tony Rini No. 4; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Udou's Barbizon Streak, Don Brumfield, No. 6.

Charles Fritz and Betty Sechrest's Vegas Vic, Howard Grant, No. 7; Edgar Calibetti's Canonero II, Gustavo Avila, No. 12; Robert L. Huffman's Knight Counter, Mike Manganello, No. 13; William A. Levin's Bold Reason, Jean Cruguet, No. 14; T. A. and J. E. Grissom's Tribal Line, David Whited, No. 15; Roget W. Wilson's Helio Rise, Kenney Knapp, No. 16, and Mrs. Joe W. Brown's List, Jimmy Nichols, No. 18.

Post time for the 97th running of the 1 1/4-mile Derby, which will have a record gross purse of $188,000 if all 20 start, is 5:30 p.m. EDT. Television coverage will be from 5-6 p.m. and radio coverage from 5:15-5:45 p.m., both by CBS.

The forecast is for partly cloudy and cool weather with the temperature at race time in the upper 60s.

The early 5-2 favorite was the entry of Bold and Able, the Stepping Stone Purse winner, and Eastern Fleet. The Impetuously and Twist the Axe entry was made the early second choice at 7-2. Twist the Axe won the Arkansas Derby and finished second to Impetuously in the Blue Grass.

Jim French was listed at 4-1, Unconscious at 8-1, Bold Reason at 10-1, Vegas Vic at 12-1, List at 15-1, Tribal Line at 20-1 and the Royal Leverage—On the Money entry and Goling Straight at 30-1.

Saigon Warrior, Jr's Arrowhead, Barbizon Streak, Canonero II, Knight Counter and Fourulla were grouped as the first single betting interest, at 20-1.

The 20 colts entered came from a record 220 nominees. It costs $99 to nominate, $1,000 to enter and $1,000 to start.

Rangers Beat Black Hawks by a Point

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The clock was bearing down on midnight but the New York Rangers weren't ready to turn into pumpkins.

There were two minutes left to Thursday night when specialist Pete Stenkowski connected with his second sudden death goal of the Stanley Cup playoff series to give New York a dramatic 3-2 triple overtime victory over the Chicago Black Hawks.

The victory squared the National Hockey League semifinal playoff at three games apiece with the seventh and deciding game scheduled for Sunday afternoon in Chicago.

There was bedlam in Madison Square Garden as Stenkowski rapped Ted Irvine's rebound past Tony Esposito with 1:29 gone in the third extra period to keep New York's Stanley Cup hopes alive.

"I didn't see it go in," said Stenkowski, "but I could tell by the roar."

Stenkowski, who won the opener of this series with an overtime goal in Chicago, followed Irvine into the Black Hawks' zone as Pat Stapleton finished serving a carry-over penalty from the second overtime period.

"I yelled for the puck, but I guess Teddy didn't hear me," Stenkowski said.

"No, I didn't hear him," said Irvine, "but I knew he was close to because we went over the blue line together."

Tim Horton fired the puck off the boards and it came out, rather unexpectedly, right to Irvine.

Esposito, who'd been kicking out shots all night, blocked Irvine's try and the puck rebounded to Stenkowski. "Tony goes down," Stenkowski said. "Either he smothered it, or it comes out." This time, it came out.

"I didn't think about it—in this league, you don't have time for that," said the tall center. "I just let it fly." Stenkowski's shot eluded Esposito and the Rangers were on their way back to Chicago for game seven.

Stenkowski said the Rangers dressing room was quiet after the first two scoreless periods.

Jean Ratelle had sent the game into overtime for New York with the only goal of the third period. Earlier, Rod Gilbert had set a Ranger Stanley Cup record with his 17th career playoff goal.

The Black Hawks had hopped in front early on Dennis Hull's first-period goal and Chico Maki's score early in the second period.

After Maki's goal, Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin played 79 minutes, 35 seconds of scoreless hockey before Stenkowski ended the marathon.

The Rangers were almost on their way north instead of West when Giacomin was decked by a slap shot in the second over-

White Sox Ease by Senators

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chuck Tanner's shock troops aren't exactly setting the American League on fire. But they'll do in a pinch.

Pinch-hitters delivered the big blows for Manager Tanner Thursday night in a four-run seventh inning rally that carried the struggling Chicago White Sox to a 5-4 victory over Washington.

Rich McKinney's two-run single keyed the sub swingers' assault as the Sox erased a 2-1 deficit in the seventh and then held off the Senators to snap a four-game losing string.

Eddie Fisher hurled 4 1-3 innings of hitless relief as California thumped Cleveland 8-4 and Don Buford's eighth inning homer sent Baltimore past Oakland 3-2 in the only other AL games. The Minnesota-Brown game was rained out and the other clubs weren't scheduled.

In the National League, the New York Mets whipped St. Louis 7-0, Montreal edged the Chicago Cubs 7-6, Los Angeles nipped Pittsburgh 2-1, San Francisco downed Atlanta 5-2 in 13 innings and Cincinnati beat San Diego 4-2. Philadelphia and Houston were idle.

Mike Andrews opened the White Sox seventh with a single, knocking out Senators' starter Dick Bosman. Walt Williams and Rich Morales then stroked pinch singles off relief ace Darold Knowles to send home the tying run.

Horacio Pina replaced Knowles and walked pinch-hitter Lee Maye intentionally, filling the bases. After Lee Richard tapped into a force at the plate, Pina gave way to Denny Riddleberger and McKinney, batting for Ed Stroud, looped a single to right for two more runs. Carlos May, who had driven in Chicago's first run with a sixth inning single, capped the rally with a sacrifice fly, giving the Sox a 5-2 lead.

Reliever Steve Kealey survived Bernie Allen's two-run homer in the ninth to save the victory for Tom Bradley, 3-0, who had left for a hitter in the big seventh.

Fisher replaced California starter Tom Murphy in the fifth after Graig Nettles' two-run homer trimmed the Angels' lead to 5-4 and stymied the Indians the rest of the way to earn his third victory against one loss. Roger Repoz drove in three early California runs with a double and bases-loaded walk, Tony Gonzalez doubled home two more in the sixth and Syd O'Brien climaxed the Angels' scoring with a seventh inning homer.

The loss was the eighth for the Indians in their last nine games.

Buford opened the Orioles' eighth against Roland Fingers with his third homer of the season, snapping a 2-2 tie and giving the defending AL champs a split of their four-game series at Oakland.

Jim Palmer tagged for a two-run homer by Dave Duncan in the second inning, went the distance for Baltimore, bringing his pitching record to 4-0. Boog Powell accounted for the Orioles' first two runs in the first inning with his fifth homer.

time and the Hawks hit two goal posts immediately afterwards.

Stan Mikita's slap shot cracked into Giacomin's mask and flattened the goalie. The puck rebounded to Bill White, whose shot banged off the left post.

Then it came back to Mikita and his shot glanced off the other post and rolled free in the goal mouth before defenseman Rod Seiling golfed it down ice.

"When that happened," said Stenkowski, "I said to one of the guys that this had to be our night."

And that's what it turned out to be for the Rangers.

Chris Speier Is Sparkplug of Giants

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chris Speier was in diapers when Willie Mays wore baseball flannels and Juan Marichal and Willie McCovey were being measured for big league suits.

Now he's the thread holding the San Francisco Giants together.

"The kid's playing some kind of baseball for us," says San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox, "he's been the difference in our club."

What kind of baseball has the 20-year-old Speier been playing? Unerring shortstop and 30 hits in 89 at-bats for a .337 average that included three safeties in Thursday night's 5-2, 13-inning victory over Atlanta.

It's also the kind of baseball that has the Giants on top in the National League West with a 4 1/2-game bulge over Los Angeles, which beat Pittsburgh 2-1 Thursday night.

Cincinnati beat San Diego 4-2, New York clouted St. Louis 7-0 and Montreal tipped Chicago 7-6 in the other National League games.

American League scores included, Baltimore 3, Oakland 2; Chicago 5, Washington 4 and California 8, Cleveland 4. Rain washed out Minnesota at Boston.

Speier, only a baby when Mays launched his career in the Giants outfield, and while Marichal and McCovey were being eyed by Giant scouts, played for the University of Santa Barbara in California before being nabbed in the 1970

Ex-Champ Ellis Has Eye on Come-Back; at War With All Boxers

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Former champion Jimmy Ellis figures Muhammad Ali is "head-in' for jail" and Joe Frazier is "head-in' to the rocking chair."

With that in mind, the 31-year-old Louisville boxer said Thursday he's "declaring war on the entire heavyweight division."

Frazier is the lone heavyweight to handle Ellis. Smokin' Joe Kayeod Jimmy in a title fight at Madison Square Garden more than a year ago.

"Only Joe, his manager and the doctor knows for sure," said Ellis, "but I think he maybe was hurt worse then reported against Ali. If he's hurt, he's through. If he can't have another million dollar fight, he'll quit, too."

Ali, defeated by Frazier in March, now faces a gloveless fight against a collection of older men ... the U.S. Supreme Court.

"Much as I hate the thought, it seems Ali is going to jail," said Ellis, longtime sparmate of the former Cassius Clay. "If I was a fellow charged with the same offense—evading the draft—I would wonder why he got off and I didn't."

Ellis meets Canada's aging, battered George Chuvalo, at Toronto May 10. It is part of a tripleheader that will share a theater television card with George Foreman-Greg Peralta and Ernie Terrell-Luis Pires bouts.

Ellis fought for several years as a middleweight, then, under the eye of Ali's trainer, Angelo Dundee, he matured into a heavyweight who finally won the World Boxing Association title.

"I'm fighting at 190 right free agent draft.

His only professional season was with Amarillo in the Class AA Texas League, where he made the All-Star team and hit .283 at age 19.

Speier was an early arrival at the Giants' Casa Grande, Ariz., spring training camp this year and won the job at shortstop, a longtime San Francisco problem spot.

"It's great to be young—and a Giant," said the personable youngster after joining Mays, Marichal and McCovey in the starting lineup.

Among Speier's three singles Thursday night was a hit that ignited the Giants' tying rally in the sixth. Speier singled to left, went to second after a walk to McCovey, then scooted home on Dick Dietz' single to make it 2-2.

San Francisco then scored three runs in the top of the 13th at Atlanta Stadium, the go-ahead tally coming on Ken Henderson's two-out single to center. Henderson had been hitless in 11 previous appearances in the three-game series.

Duke Sims drove home the winning run in the ninth inning with a bases-full single to give Los Angeles the victory over Pittsburgh, which had an unusually silent offense.

"Nobody should worry about our hitting," said Pirate first baseman Bob Robertson. "We aren't hitting with consistency now, but we will down the stretch."

Pete Mikkelsen, a former Pittsburgh reliever, bailed out Dodger starter Al Downing in an eighth inning tough spot and picked up his third victory.

Ty Cline collected three hits and sparked two-run Cincinnati rallies in the first and third innings as the revitalized Reds seized their fourth straight victory. Wayne Simpson, with relief help from Wayne Granger, was credited with his first victory since the middle of last season.

Donn Clendenon's second homer of the season, a three-run shot, highlighted a six-run seventh for New York. Clendenon's blast, a line drive into the left field pavilion, was the clinching blow in a 12-hit assault off three pitchers as the Mets completed a sweep of their four-game series in St. Louis.

Ron Swoboda tripled in the tying run with two out in the ninth inning, then scored the winner on John Bateman's single as Montreal beat Chicago. The Cubs had scored five runs in the sixth inning to take a 6-1 lead, but the Expos came back to win it with a run in the seventh, two in the eighth and three in the ninth.

Canadiens in Semi-Final Victory

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The National Hockey League's mechanism didn't let the Montreal Canadiens, and they marched into the final series of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Canadiens defeated the battling Minnesota North Stars 3-2 Thursday night to win their semifinal in six games.

But the final outcome was in doubt even after the clock showed that time had run out.

It appeared that Ted Hampson had tied the game for the North Stars just at game's end. But referee Bill Friday looked to the goal light and saw blue; thus, no goal.

A Minnesota official explained later that an automatic device wired to the officials' clock negates the red goal light when time has run out, and a blue light flashes.

"I didn't know the game was over," said Montreal goalie Ken Dryden, who with Minnesota goalie Cesare Maniago was the sensation of the dramatic game.

"The last time I looked at the clock there were five seconds left," said Dryden. "I played his shot and missed it."

Hampson still had a cloudy understanding of the circumstances.

"Nobody seems to know whether it went in or not," Hampson said. "For all I know it was two seconds over. For some reason I looked back when I was skating away and saw they didn't count it."

The disqualification touched off thunderous jeering from the crowd of 15,422 and a wild scene on the ice that saw the North Stars skate through debris to bitterly contest the ruling.

A television replay showed later that Hampson's shot actually came after time had expired.

The Canadiens, who play the winner of the New York-Chicago series in the finals starting next week, felt the same way about the North Stars, who finished fourth in the West Division and rose up to carry Montreal to a sixth game after upsetting St. Louis in the quarterfinals.

"Give them credit," said Montreal Coach Al MacNeill. "They are one hell of a hockey club. I don't care what anyone says, they would have given the other team

Mistakes in Auto Races Are Costly

By BLUYS BRITT
 'ap auto Racing Writer
DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — Richard Petty, who guards his personal life and his driving talents with rigid discipline, agrees that auto racing is the one sport where mistakes can be the most costly.

He made his second big mistake at Darlington International Raceway Thursday but, as was the case after the first one he came out of it with sound mind and body.

The 33-year-old king of stock car racing, who is only $50,000 shy of becoming the sport's second $1 million purse winner, had a near disastrous brush with one of Darlington's impregnable walls during first day time trials for Sunday's $86,000 Rebel 400.

His sleek blue Plymouth, roaring along at close to 150 miles per hour, crunched against the barrier in the speedway's north turn, shuddered sickly under the impact and then straightened up under Petty's muscular handling with only slight damage to the machine and none to the driver.

"I can now tell you with authority that they put that wall there for a purpose," the 6-foot-3, 210-pounder said. "Without it, I'd have wound up over there in the woods someplace."

It was on this same track and in this same race last year that Petty had his first big mistake and his closest brush with death.

Coming off the tricky fourth turn, where a driver heads his machine directly into the cement wall before peeling off into the front straight, Petty lost control and rammed the barrier a glancing blow.

The impact shattered the racer, and on the rebound the car flipped four times end over end down the straight as 60,000 and a nationwide television audience watched.

Petty's first qualifying lap around the mile and three-eighths oval—his accident occurred on his second circuit—gave him fourth place in Sunday's 36-car starting order. His average speed was 150.832 miles per hour.

The front row pole position went to a 31-year-old Donnie Allison who drove Glen Wood's Mercury at 151.471 MPH. It was the fifth time this season that the Wood car has captured the pole—three times with A.J. Foyt at the wheel and twice now with Allison. Foyt won two major races with it.

David Pearson earned the other front row spot in a Mercury, recording 151.388 MPH while two-time Rebel 400 winner Fred Lorenzen was third in a Plymouth at 151.016.

Bankroll Goal of All Boxers

By ERIC PREWITT
 Associated Press Sports Writer
OAKLAND (AP) — George Foreman, the No. 1 contender, spoke for five other heavyweights Thursday when asked in what area he needed to improve the most.

"My bankroll," the 22-year-old fighter answered quickly. Foreman and four of the other boxers who will appear in a May 10 tripleheader, to be carried by closed circuit television, were interviewed Thursday by telephone on an open line hooking up several cities.

Canada's George Chuvalo, who will fight Jimmy Ellis, was asked if he thought he "could handle the kid."

The veteran Chuvalo said yes and added, "he's no kid, by the way. He's in my age group." That's where Foreman, the undefeated 215-pounder stands out in the group of six heavyweights in the May 10 show.

He's young enough to wait; if he must, for a shot at the title held by Joe Frazier.

If Foreman beats Gregorio Peralta of Argentina here May 10, will he be ready for Frazier?

"Probably so," Foreman said.

The televised tripleheader, put together by a New York group, K.O. Inc., will start with Ernie Terrell meeting Luis Pires of Brazil in Chicago at 9:15 p.m. EDT.

Ellis and Chuvalo will meet in Toronto and Foreman and Peralta will fight here in the closing bout. The first two fights are scheduled for 10 rounds, and Foreman faces his first 15-round test.

"But I have no ambition to be a 15-round fighter," said Foreman, who won a 10-round decision over Peralta last year. The tripleheader will be televised in 120 locations including the arenas where the live action is scheduled.

On the West Coast, the Terrell-Pires fight will be shown on tape—after the Foreman-Peralta fight.

Bucks Expect Sweep Over Bullets

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks, a 3-year-old expansion team which spurred ahead with Lew Alcindor and solidified under Oscar Robertson, goes after the National Basketball Association championship tonight.

A victory over the shackled Baltimore Bullets would give the Bucks a four-game sweep, only the second in the 25-year history of the NBA and the first since the 1958-59 season.

Milwaukee has averaged only 102 points in the three previous games, yet decisions haven't been close.

The Bullets have averaged just 90 points a game, with Robertson dogging Earl Monroe every step of the way and Alcindor taking away Baltimore's inside game with his shot blocking and intimidation. Even the eternal optimism of Baltimore Coach Gene Shue seemed to have lost its snap.

"I've always felt a team has to have four wins before anything happens," Shue said, "and they only have three. There's only one place for us to go—up."

But the Bullets will be without the services again of All-Star forward Gus Johnson, who will be sidelined with ailing knees which are due for an operation next month.

Without Johnson, center Wes Unseld has been forced to do most of the rebounding for Baltimore. He has tried mightily, but at 6-7½ he is some eight inches shorter than Alcindor.

"Milwaukee has taken away our inside game completely," Shue said. "When we go in, they close up the lane and Alcindor has been blocking more shots than ever. They've played excellent defense, with a lot of good work on Earl—double teaming him and other things."

Shue said Baltimore executed its plays better in the third game than previously, "but we turned the ball over carelessly too much, and missed a lot of shots we should make."

In addition to three straight in the best-of-7 series, the Bucks whipped Baltimore four out of five during the regular season.

Two years ago, in their inaugural season, the Bucks finished with a 27-55 record and then drafted Alcindor.

With big Lew scoring at a 28.8-point average, Milwaukee improved to 56-26 the following year, and then obtained Robertson in a trade with Cincinnati after Oscar missed one which would have sent him to Baltimore.

During the recent season, Milwaukee posted a 66-16 record, and has lost just twice in 13 playoff games.

4 Games Rained Out in Dixie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Rain played havoc with the Dixie Association Thursday night, washing out four games but posing no problem to a pair of the division leaders.

Dallas-Fort Worth hiked its Dixie West lead to two games by clubbing second-place Albuquerque 11-1 while Asheville was picking up a game on eastern leader Montgomery with a 6-4 verdict.

In the only other rain-free game Thursday, Amarillo waltzed past San Antonio 11-4.

Mike Reinbach's two-run homer in the first inning got Dallas-Fort Worth off to a fast start and the Spurs broke the game open in the seventh with eight unearned runs.

Three Albuquerque errors contributed to the madcap seventh inning in which 14 Spur batters paraded to the plate.

Albuquerque catcher Harry McDermott was injured at one point when Enos Cabell slid into home with the bases loaded as he tried to break up a double play.

Asheville closed within two games of Montgomery, coming from behind in the seventh inning on a two-run homer by leftfielder Ken Hottman.

The homer was Hottman's 10th of the young season. He now has 25 RBIs.

Richard White and Augusto Austin of Amarillo cracked "three-run homers in the second and fifth innings respectively as Bob DeLong went the distance with a six-hitter.

Bursitis Forces Casper to Pull Out

By BOB GREEN

Casper, winner of two U.S. Opens and more than 40 other tour events had to pull out of the $125,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament Thursday when he developed bursitis in his left hip. He shot a 74 and then withdrew.

Graham, a drawing native of Nashville, Tenn., and the stocky Cupit, mired deep in a slump for several years, shared the first round lead in the chase for the $25,000 top prize with seven under par 65s.

"It's absolutely amazing that everyone is shooting so well," said Graham, a tall, good-looking

Unser Will Speak at Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS

Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Al Unser, who breaks into a cold sweat when somebody forces him to make a speech, will be called upon a few words Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway where he won $271,697 last May.

The Albuquerque, N.M., driver will be drafted for formalities opening the 230,000-seat Speedway plant for preliminaries to the 55th 500-mile race May 29.

Indianapolis will use the track opening to launch its 150th birthday celebration and to begin its annual month-long 500 Festival.

The ceremonies also will call attention to NATO's Conference of Cities here May 25-28, with Mayor Carlos Romero Barcelo of San Juan, P.R., representing the invited guests.

Al Unser, the United States Auto Club champion last year, again will be the favorite in this year's 500 after winning earlier USAC events this year at Rafaela, Argentina, and Phoenix, Ariz. He was leading a 200-miler at Trenton, N.J., last Sunday when a piston burned out.

Al's brother Bobby, who finished second on the 1970 USAC championship circuit and won the Indianapolis classic three years ago, will be among this year's strong contenders.

The field also includes A. J. Foyt Jr., rated a strong chance to become the first four-time winner of the million-dollar race. He has passed up this year's early USAC races to concentrate on preparing four Coyote cars in his Houston garage.

Other potential winners include Mario Andretti, who took the event in 1969, and was running strong at Trenton in a new German-built McNamara when his supercharger failed.

Foyt will be the dean in the 77-car field with 13 past starts. Other veterans include Jimmy McElreath, also of the Foyt-Greer team, and Roger McCluskey, 1970 USAC stock car champion, each of whom has started nine times without winning.

This has been a bad spring in central Indiana for asphalt highways, with alternate freezing and thawing, and extensive repairs have been necessary on the 2½-mile Speedway. Supt. Clarence Cagle said they were about finished Wednesday and there would be no problem Saturday.

Chief Steward Harlan Fenger, running the race for the 14th year, probably will impose a speed limit for the first few days of practice. It probably will be in the 160 m.p.h. bracket, which will be faster than most of the dozen rookies will want to go.

The field will be reduced to the 33 fastest cars in 10-mile time trials May 15, 16, 22 and 23. Joe Leonard, who set the qualifying record of 171.559 m.p.h. with a turbine engine in 1968, will be back for his seventh Speedway start as Al Unser's teammate.

The startish has no teeth and is unable to break up or swallow its prey in the usual way.

Walker Cup Nominees Come Through

By KEN ALYTA

Associated Press Sports Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — The men who picked the Walker Cup golf team to represent the United States against the British at St. Andrews in Scotland a month from now may take a bow.

Three members of the 10-man squad and an alternate were today's semifinalists in the North and South Amateur Tournament.

National amateur champion Lanny Wadkins met Vinny Giles in the first 18-hole match and Bill Campbell played Eddie Pearce in the other. The survivors meet for the title over 36 holes Saturday on the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Wadkins, a junior, and Pearce, a freshman, are teammates at Wake Forest University.

The Wadkins-Giles match is of particular interest in Richmond, Va., where Giles lives and Wadkins formerly lived before moving to Winston-Salem, N.C.

Wadkins is 21 and Giles, a red-haired investment banker, is 28.

Campbell, 47-year-old insurance man from Huntington, W.Va., has won here four times from 1950 to 1967. Pearce, playing in his first North and South, is from Temple Terrace, Fla., and won the Florida Open championship last year.

Pearce qualified for the U.S. Open at the age of 16.

Wadkins played the sharpest golf as he won a pair of matches Thursday. He was three under par in a morning fourth round 2 and 1 victory over cup teammate Bill Hyndman of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., and one under in a 4 and 2 quarter-final decision over Joe Inman, of Greensboro, N.C.

Inman, another cup team alternate, defeated Wadkins in the 1969 finals.

Before the tournament began, Wadkins was unhappy with his putting but it has improved steadily this week. His driving has been consistently accurate. In two matches Thursday, he missed only one fairway. Only some spotty short iron play remained for him to work on to bring his game to its peak.

Commune for Doctors New Order of the Day Researchers Disclose

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The house is warm and airy with high ceilings and spacious rooms and a handsomely carved mantelpiece. It was built in another day, perhaps for another kind of doctor, but it is perfect for Allen.

He plans to turn the old house into a commune—a commune for doctors.

"People are recognizing more and more that to have a new society, you have got to build it," he said, leaning his 6-foot heavily shouldered frame against the mantel.

As he spoke, his hands toyed idly with a half-braided leather belt that dangled from his shoulders at the edge of his flowing black hair.

Allen is hip and 30, an M.D. specializing in internal medicine. He and two fellow physicians are helping organize Seattle's Country Doctor—a free medical clinic, one of several springing up to join free universities, free stores and other infant institutions of the Alternative Society—that still wobbles attempt by disaffected young Americans to develop ways to live apart from straight society.

Allen has no interest in money—only in making enough to survive. His main interest is the clinic and leading a professional life not as "an economic machine" but as a human being with "medical knowledge to share."

"The way the arrangement is now, doctors are so incredibly overpaid I could work one day a week as a straight doctor and make around $12,000 to $14,000 a year easily. That's how screwed up things are," he said.

"Clinics are a long way from the answer," he said, "but I do see them as building blocks for a new medical system with free laboratories and free X-ray technicians and free radiologists and free hospitals and free people."

He laughed, a laugh recognizing that the reality of his vision was a long way off.

Doctors like Allen remain rare. As far as he knows, he is the only one of 72 doctors in his graduating class planning to devote his career to free medicine.

The important thing, he said, is the number of like-minded doctors who are coming out of medical schools after him.

Dr. Julius R. Krevans, dean of the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, said it is too early to tell just how significant that number will be.

But, he said, there is no question that social awareness is quickening among students and faculty members in the nation's medical schools.

"Before this year, there wasn't a single medical collective in this area. Now you have at least three."

The Seattle Clinic, like virtually all the institutions of the Alternative Society, is directly dependent on the larger city-owned firehouse. Contributions will be tax deductible because the clinic will have tax-exempt status as a non-profit institution.

Milwaukee's Free Clinic operates in the basement of a Roman Catholic hospital on the East side, close by that city's hip enclave.

The scarcity of doctors to man the free clinics makes continuity in treatment difficult. A young woman, well along in pregnancy, works in a Cambridge movement book store. She praises that city's medical clinic but says here baby will not be delivered by a movement doctor. "I want to be at a hospital where I would have the same doctor for delivery I had all along," she said.

Technical competence—not only in medicine but in auto mechanics—a thinly spread resource in the Alternative Society. Poets abound. Plumbers are scarce.

The People's Free Wheel, a no-charge bus line in Cambridge, Mass., has a discomforting habit of breaking down as it plies back and forth along Massachusetts Avenue.

The politically minded organizers of the free institutions blame the failures on what they see as the corrupting influence of the larger society—influences that the free institutions are designed to minimize.

Allen, for example, was trained at the University of California. The Country Doctor will operate out of an abandoned city-owned firehouse.

But the insulation is far from perfect. The Straight Society is very much a part of the Alternative Society. It supports it. Rock concerts and people's donations provide some cash and give a sense of community participation. But the hard cash doesn't come from the hip community. It comes from straight people, one way or another.

From the manual "F—the System: How to Live Free in Albuquerque," is an example of how to "rip off":

"One of the best places to eat is your local supermarket. Get a car and start pushing it around. Throw a few things in occasionally for effect. Meanwhile, you can make sandwiches, eat fruit and cookies, and open a tin or two of smoked oysters. When you're full, leave your cart and split."

Naivete plagues some of the Alternative Society's institutions.

Albuquerque hips opened a free store and stocked it with donated clothing, food and household goods. All were welcome to come and take what they needed in exchange for what they could give.

"We had no restrictions on what people could take so they took everything," said a young woman at the store, which is now not so much a store as a store front movement meeting place with bare shelves and a handful of underground newspapers.

"DON'T QUIT"

BIBLE GROVE, Ill. (AP) — George Quakenbush, 92, says he can still see to read, doesn't have trouble hearing and his hands don't even shake.

What's his secret? "Well, a fella told me once that the way to live long is to just keep a-going," he said. "When you get old, don't quit."

When Quakenbush retired after 30 years as a mail carrier, he bought a farm. "I wanted something to do," he said.

He farmed for 30 years until he was 90.

Bookish Guy Would Bear Watching, Became an Activist

By KEN HARTNETT Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The family pediatrician warned Truman Administration economist John C. Davis about his second-born son, mild-mannered and bookish, Rennie.

"Keep your eye on him," so the Davis family story goes. "He's very bright but he acts on his beliefs."

Years later, Rennie, by now a seasoned revolutionary, began believing that the best way to stop the war in Indochina was to stop the U.S. government.

So beginning next week, the 30-year-old Davis and legions of politicized freaks and street people from the youth culture will try to do just that by seeking to keep government workers, most of whom live in the suburbs, from their desks in the nation's capital. They hope to cause massive traffic jams by physically blocking highways and bridges leading into Washington.

They've dubbed their strategy "Mayday."

"In brief, the aim of the Mayday actions is to raise the social cost of the war to a level unacceptable to America's rulers," reads Mayday's tactical manual. "To do this we seek to create the spectre of social chaos while maintaining the support or at least toleration of the broad masses of American people."

The strategy recalls the tumult that followed last spring's Cambodian invasion, but the turbulence of last May, said Davis, represents a mere "sliver of the possibilities that exist for this spring."

A founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, Davis is one of a half-dozen architects of the Mayday plan for massive, non-violent civil disobedience. But he is far and away the best known a fact that he traces back to the Chicago Conspiracy trial.

Davis, who wears thick-lensed glasses and brown hair at shoulder length, was one of five defendants convicted of crossing state lines to incite rioting during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The trial, said Davis, gave him a reputation for violence, a reputation he maintained is now getting in Mayday's way. "What upsets me," said Davis, "is the confusion my reputation spreads around this action. We've not had much luck in our attempts to show in the mass media the nonviolent character of this action in Washington. Perhaps, one other reason the spectre of violence is raised in the press is that we are not talking about a routine picket line but a display of power, symbolic power."

The Mayday plan has some in the movement worried, particularly those who are dubious about the ability of the youth culture to serve as a revolutionary cutting edge.

Davis does not deny the risks.

"We are at the most critical point in Vietnamese history," said Davis, who insists that Vietnam faces total destruction unless the war is brought to a halt now.

His friends say that such talk is not just rhetoric with Davis but an expression of almost evangelical identification with the Vietnamese people.

The son of a member of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, Davis seemed destined to follow his father into a career in government or traditional public service.

"Walter Reuther really tried to get Rennie to work for him," said Davis' older brother, Richard, a suburban Washington public school principal.

That was after Rennie finished undergraduate work at Oberlin College, where he roomed with budding revolutionary Tom Hayden, and moved on to the University of Michigan for a master's degree in political science.

What followed was civil rights work in the South, then white community organizing, a short fling at doctoral studies, his antiwar activity, which sent him to Hanoi for the first time in 1967, the Chicago demonstration, which he helped organize, and the conspiracy trial.

Davis was fined $5,000 and sentenced to five years in prison. U.S. Dist. Judge Julius Hoffman also imposed a contempt sentence of 25 months.

"Rennie seems to have been penalized for being so good," wrote Hayden in his book, "Trial." "He was always the most clean-cut and responsible of the defendants ... and was constantly referred to in the press as a '4-H'er.' I hope that I will be allowed out by 1976," he said in court after his conviction. "And when I do come out I'm going to move right next door to chief prosecutor Tom Foran."

Nader Says Doctors Unwarned

By G. DAVID WALLACE Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An associate of consumer advocate Ralph Nader says doctors are receiving inadequate warnings of the danger that a potent "chemical strait jacket" for mental patients can cause symptoms of Parkinson's disease.

Kotouc to Remain in Army

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE Associated Press Writer

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Capt. Eugene M. Kotouc, acquitted by a military jury of maiming a prisoner after the My Lai assault in 1968, says he will remain in the Army.

"It's the best damn army in the world, I'll tell you that," the former enlisted man said after the jury returned its verdict Thursday. "Today is my day to be happy."

"I'm going to get out of this uniform now and put on my beer drinking clothes and head for the pool," he told newsmen.

A group of relatives and friends from Kotouc's hometown of Humboldt, Neb., cheered loudly as Col. James Burkhart of Richland, Ind., president of the court-martial, read the verdict.

"Thank you sir," Kotouc said as he snapped a salute to the jury.

The round-faced, baldish Kotouc was the third soldier to be acquitted of criminal charges filed by the Army in connection with the My Lai assault and its aftermath. Acquitted earlier of assault charges were Sgt. Charles Hutto of Tallulah, La., and S.Sgt. David Mitchell of St. Francisville, La.

Kotouc's acquittal, which follows the conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on murder charges, leaves one soldier still facing criminal charges. He is Capt. Ernest Medina, who awaits trial at Ft. McPherson on murder charges.

Another officer, Col. Oran K. Henderson, who commanded the 11th Infantry Brigade when one of its battalions attacked My Lai, is being tried at Ft. Meade, Md., on charges of dereliction of duty in connection with the alleged cover-up of the incident. His trial is in recess.

Medina, a close personal friend of Kotouc, commanded Charley Company, which swept through My Lai. Kotouc, who spent three years in the Army as an enlisted man before he was commissioned, was the intelligence officer assigned to the operation.

Hill Case to Jury Today

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The first-degree murder trial of Leslie David Hill, 45, of Jonesboro was expected to go to the jury in Circuit Court here today.

Hill is charged in the 1968 shooting death of Willie Young, 58, of Jonesboro. Young was shot 10 times during an argument over a dice game.

W. B. Howard of Jonesboro, Hill's attorney, has maintained that Hill is innocent by reason of insanity.

There was conflicting testimony Thursday on Hill's mental condition.

Dr. Robert H. Harrison of Little Rock, a psychiatrist at the Fort Rooks Veterans Administration hospital, said he examined Hill on two occasions and found him to be psychotic. The doctor said he had diagnosed Hill as suffering from paranoid schizophrenia.

Harrison said at the time of the shooting, Hill "probably" did not know the difference between right and wrong.

Dr. Oscar Kusberg, a psychiatrist at the State Hospital in Little Rock, testified as a rebuttal witness for the prosecution that Hill did not have any mental disease that would make him legally incompetent.

Kusberg said his staff concurred on the diagnosis that Hill was without psychosis.

er, half the persons receiving the drug Stelazine are being exposed unnecessarily.

The manufacturer, Smith, Kline & French, denied Turner's charge that the drug, which has been taken by 10 million people in its 15 years on the market, is overused or that serious reactions are common.

In heavy doses the drug can cause what some scientists say is possibly irreversible drooping, tremors and a shuffling gait. The drug's manufacturer said it is most often prescribed in much smaller doses for mild neuroses.

A Food and Drug Administration official agreed the drug is overused, particularly for the treatment of mild anxiety and "primarily trivial complaints."

The FDA official, who declined to be identified, noted the agency is requiring revised labeling for the Stelazine family of drugs. But he added the agency considers the drug's Parkinsonian warnings to be fair.

In a speech Thursday to a National Academy of Engineering symposium, Turner cited a German doctor's 1968 report that he observed 20 per cent to 25 per cent of the mental hospital patients receiving the drug to be afflicted with fairly severe side effects.

The report by Dr. Rudolf

Degkwitz noted the effects could last "for many years or perhaps indefinitely."

Turner, an associate of Nader's Center for the Study of Responsive Law, said the FDA received studies on Stelazine before it went on the market showing the drug to have produced Parkinsonianism in 43 per cent of the patients in one study.

The FDA official did not comment on the study specifically, but noted it probably was with high dosages and said no one disputes the fact that Stelazine can have severe side effects.

"The benefits are considered by us to outweigh the risks" in severe cases, said the FDA official. "We don't have useful drugs that don't produce some side effects."

But asked for comment on Turner's charge that half of the persons receiving the drug should not have received it, the FDA official said: "That's a very good point."

The Smith, Kline & French spokesman said most of the prescriptions of the drug were dispensed by private doctors at doses much smaller than used in hospitals. The spokesman listed dizziness and skin reactions as side effects from small doses, and said the reactions amount to 4 per cent or less.

IF YOUR WAY IS DARK

ASK GOD FOR LIGHT

In His Hand

What high company; What a privilege to be held in the palm of the strong hand of God. No man dare trying to stand alone...to walk without Him. Just as surely, no man can fail when God is with him. "My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand."

John 10:29. He as ev ybody in His Hand. He who would be wise should step upon the strong hand of God this day and take Him at his word. He said, "My grace is sufficient for thee."

Only trust Him. Help support His cause. Attend church every week and may the Lord ever be with thee.

You In The Church
The Church In You

... form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

State Panel
Rejects Foes'
Arkla Plea

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission refused Wednesday to order the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to produce several corporate documents requested by an opponent in the hearing on Arkla's industrial gas contracts. Oscar Fendler of Bixieville, attorney for Continental Oil Co., had asked the PSC to order Arkla to produce almost all of its corporate records since 1965. Fendler had argued the records were needed to determine if Arkla was giving the PSC correct information about its financial position.

Continental Oil is one of several industries opposing a move to cancel Arkla's long-term contracts with industrial users. The PSC has been conducting a hearing on whether to cancel the contracts and impose uniform rates for Arkla to charge industrial customers. An order signed by all three members of the PSC said Fendler had ample opportunity to obtain most of the information he wanted through cross-examination of Arkla's witnesses.

CHECK YOUR LEVEL
RACINE, Wis. (AP) — Before you start out in the family car on your summer vacation make certain the coolant level meets the one recommended by the car maker. If the level is down, look for signs of a possible radiator leak, warns the Modine Manufacturing Co., maker of car radiators.

The Board of Directors
City of Hope, Arkansas:

We have examined the following financial statements of the City of Hope, Arkansas as of December 31, 1970 and for the year then ended:

Combined Receipts and Disbursements
General Fund Receipts and Disbursements
Health Department Fund Receipts and Disbursements
Airport Fund Receipts and Disbursements
Street Fund Receipts and Disbursements
Sewer Revenue Bond Fund Receipts and Disbursements
Sewer Revenue Bond Fund Balance Sheet
Firemen's Pension Fund Receipts and Disbursements

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the above mentioned statements present fairly the cash position of the City of Hope, Arkansas at December 31, 1970 and the results of its recorded cash transactions for the year then ended, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year. The current year's supplementary data included in Schedules I-10 have been subjected to the same auditing procedures and, in our opinion, are stated fairly in all material respects when considered in conjunction with the basic financial statements taken as a whole.
